Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst made one of his characteristic addresses to women last night in the Adams Memorial Church. It was at a meeting of the City Vigilance League of the Fourteenth and Sixteenth Assembly districts. districts. The meeting was opened by Dr Forbes, who presented Dr. Parkhurst "This question of woman has been before the public in relation to this reform move-ment for some dime," and the doctor, "and something is now coming of it. The degeneration of the city is a matter that should interest every mother, dister and who that fives in it."

Dr. Parkhurst saki that politics had nothing to do with the women's work, for there were no politics in it. It was a question of right against wrong, a question of the ten commandments or no com-mandments. "If she is a true mother or sister or wife, she should use every resource to elevate the general tone of the community," he said. "In order to bring about this purification, we must begin with the municipal government."

The doctor said he had received a letter from a whole-souled lady, who volunteered to start the movement among the women, and he had had a jong conversation with her about it. Referring to the coming elections for Governor, he said: "If you think Mr. Hill is the kind of man who will step his name to a bill citize the Mayor. sign his name to a bill giving the Mayor the power to remove the heads of depart-ments, then vote for him. If not, do not, that's all, and unless Mr. Hill has been recently reformed, I hardly think he will do it. I have heard a rumor that it is the purpose of Tammany to indorse Mr. Goff for Mayor. It is a Hill idea, I believe, and it shows that Hill is trying to ally himself with a body that will lend re nimeel with a body that will lend respectability to his campaign. In regard to Mr. Goff, who has been mentioned for the Mayoralty, and the proposed indorsement of him by Tammany, I have only this to say: I know Mr. Goff personally and well, and I know he is prepared to sink his own pgrsonality in this matter. I know what I am talking about. He is so devoted to the welfare of his city that he will never allow his personal ambitions, if he has any, to stand between himself and his duty to his fellow-citizens."

They are prisoners of war, but-they will not be submitted to the bar-barities and cruefities which have been barities and crueities which have been heaped upon my countrymen by the Chinese. The Japanese government does not want to be hard on the Chinese, any more than it wants to be hard on the people of Korea. Gov. McKinley's Speeches Bear Fruit.

Judge Gaynor Writes a Letter on New York Politics—Gen. Wal-lace on ex-President Harrison.

NEOLA (Iowa,) Oct. 5.—The patriotic speeches which Gov. McKinley has been speeches which Gov. McKinrey has been making are bearing fruit, for at every one of the stations where crowds assembled to hear him there are liberal displays of flags, of which the Governor says so much. This has been especially noticeable during the last two days, and since the speeches he has made have been put in circulation. There was an early breakfast, and a five-There was an early breakfast, and a five mile drive acress the Missouri River to Council Bluffs, where McKinley found at the Grand Hotel a number of gentlemen who were there attending the reunion of the Army of the Tennessee. Among them were Generals Howard, Dodge, Woltert Hickellcoper; and Williamson, Col. who were there attending the reunion of the Army of the Tennessee. Among them were Generals Howard, Dodge, Wolcott, Hickenlooper and Williamson, Col. Fred Grant, Tecumseh Sherman and Col. Hugh Belknap, who had an interchange of fraternal greetings with McKinley. From a stand erected in front of the hotel Gov. Jackson introduced the Governor to the several thousand people. After commenting on the interest by the men congregating thus early to hear a political speech, Gov. McKinley said:

"You have an opportunity to vote now to express your opinion of the work of the Democratic administration. The people of this country have experienced a revolution in political sentiment. There has not been anything like it in American history. The Democratic party carried the country in 1892, but in every election in every Northern State since the verdict then given has been evoked and the people have spoken in thunderous tones Republican party and the principles of that party.

"The Democratic President and the Democratic."

Northern State since the verdict then given has been evoked and the people have spoken in thunderous tones Republican party and the principles of that party.

"The Democratic President and the Democratic Congress have been running this Government for the past inleteen months, and, during that time little has been accomplished. Every industry has been distressed and every occupation has been injuriously affected. We need prosperity and the prosperity of one occupation depends upon the prosperity of every other. You are prosperous in the agricultural sections of Iowa when the mills and factories are running in every State in the Union. My parting words are, bring back the State of Iowa to the position it so long occupied as one of the banner Republican States of the Union."

Council Bluffs was left at 3:40 o'clock, the Governor's party being taken charge of by Charles Kenery, general northern passenger agent of the Rock Island, who acts as escort as far as Des Moines.

A queer incident occurred at Neola, where soveral hundred people stood around the car of Gov. McKinley, giving him entirely respectful attention. When the train started, however, instead of giving the usual parting cheer, the whole crowd, with few exceptions, began to shout: "Hurrah for Weaver," the Populist candidate for Congress in the Council Bluffs district, It was explained that Neola was a particularly strong center of Populism.

At Avoca a long stop was made, and Gov. McKinley left the car to speak from a platform to the several thousand assembled. He claimed that 90 per cent of the products of agriculture in this country is consumed in this country, and the other 10 per cent. Two thousand men were waiting at Atlantic to hear McKinley. Stops of one or two minutes were made along the route and at every one there was a crowd that insisted upon hearing a word from the Governor. The private car of Gen Dodge was attached to the train at Council Bluffs and in it as guests of Gen. Dodge, were Col. Fred Grant, Tecumseh Sherman, Maj. Hoyt Sherman and

Gen. Wallace thinks that David B. Hill will be the Democratic nominee. Concluding, he said: "I wish I felt as sure of ciernal salvation as I do that this country will go Republican in 1896."

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—A special to the World from the City of Mexico says that El Partido, a semi-official paper, comments as follows on the relations between Mexico and Guatemala: "Gustemala cannot do us harm. It lacks the necessary elements for war, and the re-sults of a war would be disastrous to her sults of a war would be disastrous to her. But we must be on the alert, not for fear, which would be chimerical, but to avoid the expenses and effusion of blood. Central America at this moment is worse prepared than ever for war. The tortuous, petty, greedy and tyrannical character of its rulers has reduced it to the worst condition. Some of these countries are justifying the defamatory phrase of an eloquent Mexican orator, who characterized them as a 'horde of Democratic Kaffirs'. For this reason certain American statesmen have expressed a wish that Mexico should assume a protectorate over all Central a protectorate over all Central America, to maintain the public peace. This idea is repungant to us."

El Partido quotes approvingly ideas advanced by the Mexican financier of this city, who said recently: "The Monroe doctrine should be adopted by all the nations of this hemisphere as the guiding principle, America for Americans—that is, the United States for North Americans, Mexico for Mexicans, Americans, and South America for its own people. It being distinctly understood that the United States agrees, if it must absorb new territory, to go either to the north or to the islands of the ocean."

THE DECADENCE OF A JOURNAL.

The Los Angeles Herald of yesterday makes formal editorial announcement of its change of ownership, management and policy. The principal facts describing the "deal" by which the journal passed out of the of the new Herald Company have heretofore been published in The Times, without comment upon the somewhat extraordinary features of

We do not hesitate to say that Senator White and his associates have the community, and especially the Democratic party, a substantial service by their timely action.

The transfer was made in the nick of time to save the paper from suspension, as it had become heavily involved financially, and was on the very verge of bankruptcy and in the a sheriff's keeper. ·

The causes which led to the gradual decadence of the Herald are unmistakable, and have operated, with more or less effect, through a number of years. Latterly, however, organhas been more complete and perfect than ever before, and escape from the ultimate end was sible. A long period of mismanagement and inefficiency in all departments-cross-roads methods in metropolitan town, with John Barleycorn frequently on deck-could inevitably produce only disastrous results. The outcome is absolutely logical; the relation of cause and effect, in the case before us, is as inexorable as the turning of the needle toward the pole.

Added to false steps and disastro tactics, came a political faux pas—the abandonment of the only political party upon which the Herald from its inception has relied for suste From a fierce thick-andthin party organ, which had been in the habit of supporting everything labeled Democratic, from a yellow dog up to Grover Cleveland-accomwith unspeakable and disgraceful abuse of Republican leaders, from peerless Grant down the whole line-the paper recently and suddenly "flopped," breaking away from its old-time party affiliations, and striking out into the broad and unsurveyed field of so-called "independ-"where it speedily got lost on the desert, and wandered aimlessly around, without chart or compass until it was finally brought into camp by the sheriff. This disastrous departure is understood to have lost it hundreds of subscribers among those of its former Democratic supporters who believe in such a thing as political integrity, both in parties and in journals.

Then followed another, disastrous move. When the railway strike, boycott and general labor insurrection broke out in the country, disturbing public order, menacing public author ity and threatening the very exist ence of the government itself, the Los Angeles Herald was not found arrayed on the side of the masses, but of the mob. It made the unspeakable. the insufferable, the inexcusable blunder of supposing that the mob of law constituted the people; it med to think that there was to be a new deal in this country; that be supplanted for the rule of the ses, the Sovereigns, the Coxeys, the Carl Brownes, the Harry Knoxes, Waites, the Peffers and the Alt ids. It received during a single rtnight the plaudits of the mob, acclaims of the strikers and boycotters, of the robbers and destroyers of railway property, of the incen-diaries and the murderers who made of Chicago, Sacramento, Oakland and re of American cities and lowns a hell upon earth during the brief period when the mob was in This Los Angeles journal, power. It played a shameful and treacherous part in a time of great public peril, and lent its influence, whatever it was, to the cause of anarchy and disorder instead of to the cause of law and peace. Having made the monstrous mistake of supposing that the insurrection could possibly succeed, It was bound to make the other fatal mistake of supposing that the passing plaudits and the ephemeral support of the mob could be lasting, and that a few extra sales of its issues, in the very height of public excitement, could possibly augur a permanent increase of legitimate natronage. It made the still further monstrous mistake of siding, during that brief period of turbu lence, not with the great masses of workingmen who constitute the bone and sinew of this country, but with hands of Ayers & Lynch into that the lawless and turbulent few who attempted to supplant the law, seize public and private property, issue impotent edicts, and defy the civil and military authorities. It lacked the thought and the judgment which should have taught it that the farmers, laborers, producers, middlemen, transportation-men, manufacturers, merchants, and the great mass of unorganized labor, of all classes and both sexes, constitute, together the big end of the people of the United States, and that their rights and interests vastly outweigh the rights and interests of so-called "organized" labor, giving to that class everything to which it is justly entitled. We point out these things as amon the legitimate and true causes for the disastrous results which are seen in the case of the journal lately on trial before the bar of public opinion, and which has so often violated all the canons of legitimate journalism. It is proper matter for discussion in this connection.

The new deal has been madedeparture taken. The Herald has reversed itself, and announces a new Democratic principles, the support of San Pedro as the site of the future harbor for Los Angeles, and the pursuance of legitimate professional meth ods generally. It has passed into the hands of men of character and standing in the community, whose position in business, politics and society is not doubtful, and who promise to reorganize, reconstruct, renew, rejuvenate and disenthrall the ancient and crip pled organ to whose rescue they came in the time of its deadly peril. The Herald makes the further announcement that, under its new management, its aim in the future will be to work for the good of the whole country, for the support of law and order, and especially for the development of the favored city and region which is its natural bailiwick. In all this it will have the good wishes of an advanced community-the support of a people who readily and effectively respond to the efforts of a public journal when conducted on right Constitution and the law were to lines. It is superfluous to add that The Times feels in this matter the same as do all right-thinking citizens. We infinitely prefer that other journals published in the community, whether competitors or not, should be conducted by legitimate methods and succeed, rather than that they should be conducted by illegitimate

The new owners also obliquely announce their purpose, in the future conduct of the paper, to reverse a certain "coarse and brutal" line of personal writing which has characterized its editorial columns in the past; and they express a desire that Herald shall sustain courteous and friendly relations with its colleagues in the future. A sincere and consistent putting into practice of this commendable wish will without doubt produce desired results. Profession and practice go well together. The declared purpose of the new owners is to effect an entire reorganization of the personnel of the concern at the earliest practicable moment The change leaves out Bombastes Furloso Lynch and his late associate, who have for well nigh a score of years been responsible for the Her-ald's conduct. We do not doubt that skill, patience, courage, brains, and integrity, and money rightly expended will in timenot in a day-convert the Herald from a sinking concern into a fairly good property. So let it be!

APOLOGISTS FOR DISORDER.

The Stockton Mail, in a recent issue, essays a criticism of Judge Ross of this city, because of his sentence of the striker, Buchanan and Gallagher, Among other equally ridiculous as sertions, the Mail says: "Judge Ross of Los Angeles appear to be desirous of imitating the infa-mous Jeffreys. He sentenced two men who had taken part in the recent railroad strike to eighteen months' im-prisonment in the County Jail and im-posed a fine of $1000 upon each for obstructing the United States mails.

obstructing the United States mails.

. Like Jeffreys, Judge Ross pretends, or really believes, that he was merciful in not imposing a heavier sentence upon the defendants, imitmating that he might have sent them to the penitentiary, thereby stigmatizing them for life. The Judge is mistaken, had he taken the is mistaken; had he taken the se verer course he would have stigma-tized himself, not the strikers. If the latter had used violence toward the fireman in question the sentence would be a just one, but this does not ap-pear to have been the case. In fact, pear to have been the case. In judging from the press dispatch, the mails were not even 'obstructed,' the strikers merely attempted to

The article above quoted then goe on to protest against what it terms "abuse of power by Judge Ross," and declares that the law allows to much latitude to judges in imposing punishments for violations thereof, The article throughout is a covert plea for anarchy, for lawlessness, for disregard of the statutes designed to repress disorder and sustain the authority of good government. From such a source such a plea was to have been expected. The riotous crimes of the late strike were due in principal part to the encouragement which the lawless element received from a certain class of newspapers that, for the basest of selfish motives sought to curry favor with rioters and criminals. In the cases above referred to, the men were convicted for obstructing the passage of the United States mails an offense which the statute regards as a felony, and for which it prescribes a commensurate punishment. The guilt of the men was clearly proved, by evidence which was and is unimpeachable, The methods by which the crime was consummated are of minor importance. It is enough to know that it was accomplished by the men convicted, who were clearly shown to have violated the law and incurred its penalties. Judge Ross was, under that it has no use for newspapers that all the circumstances, extremely lenient in sending these men to the County Jail instead of to the penitentiary.

Much of the crime committed in the United States is due to the fact that shallow scribblers are too often allowed to exploit their views in the columns of newspapers, to impugn the motives of the highest and most learned judges, appear as apologists for and defenders of crimes of the gravest import, and to advocate the modification of our criminal laws in line of journalistic action-a return to the interest of the very classes whose crimes the laws are designed to suppress and punish. All this breeds disrespect for law, and thus encour ages violation of it. If these anarch istic apologists for crime were made victims of it, they would promptly ecome advocates of good law, good order, and just government. trouble with them is, they do not think straight.

Says the Chicago Inter-Ocean: "En gene Debs is a back number. People have had enough of him to last through this generation. It is most grievous of all to remember the suffering the policy inaugurated by him will bring to thousands of humble homes during the coming winter. If the dwellers in these thousands of humble homes would place the responsibility for their suffering where it belongs, upon the shoulders of Debs and his co-conspirators, the lesson would not be without good results in protecting them from similar impositions in the future. But is is to feared that a majority of them will continue to kiss the hand that smites them.

President Havemeyer of the Sugar Trust says that the operation of the new tariff will throw 10,000 men out of employment. But it will not throw the Sugar Trust opt of employment. The present policy of that organiza-tion is to limit production so as to make it easier to advance prices. The new tariff has given the trust an additional "cinch" on the public.

The Times is in receipt of a long and furious prohibition communica-tion from the Rev. T. W. Lincoln of South Riverside, in which occurs the following paragraph, referring to our report of Mr. French's speech before the Methodist Conferen ore the Methodist Conference:
"I want to protest against the whole editorial as an apology for Romanism and a slur upon the great Mehodist church of this country." The Times is also in receipt of a communication from a Catholic, with wheels in his head, who protests against the same article, declaring that it reads the riot act to the pop and his ablegate, or words to that effect. Comment would be superfluous, not to say redundant.

China is certainly in a most undesirable position. In addition to the discomfiture of a war which has thus far been sorely against her, a rebellion has broken out in the province of Mongolia, and serious troubles are reported to have arisen in the palace at Peking. The outlook is about as squally as it well could be.

It Promises to Eclipse All Previous Exhibitions. The Industrial Fair of the Sixth District

The Industrial Fair of the Sixth District Agricultural Association, which opens on Monday, October 15, will eclipse any of the exhibitions held in the State this year. Some exceptionally fine displays have been received for the pavilion at the park. Among them will be a booth from the beet-sugar factory at Chino, in which the process of manufacturing the sugarbeet into the table article will be illustrated. Samples of the sugar in all the various grades from the raw to the refined state will be shown, and the method of analysing will be practically demonstrated. Richard Gird states that he intends the exhibit to be the best they have ever made, and he will give his personal attention to the installation of the display. Another interesting part of the show will be contributed by Mrs. Ellen B. Farr of Pasadena, who proposes to exhibit her splendid collection of fish baskets, gathered by her from among the South Sea Islanders, the Hawaiians and the Indians of Alaska, and uncivilized tribes of other countries.

reconstructed for the machinery display, which will form a considerable part of the fair this year.

It is expected that the race meeting will be a record-breaker in every sense. The entries outcleas those of any preceding year, and with all the highest class horses in the State to contest for the stakes and purses, and the best accommodations for the public to be found on any track west of the Rockies, a big attendance is expected for every day in the week. The new grandstand was just what was wanted at Agricultural Park. The demand for boxes exceeded all expectations. There are forty of these in the stand, as against twenty in the old structure, and although the races are a week distant, all but two are taken.

A great many of the horses entered have already taken up quarters at the track, and are doing daily work. Some fast miles are being made every morning, and from the present condition of the horses it looks as though some records will be broken in the fast trotting and pacing classes.

The gentlemen's road race for trotters and pacers, recently announced by the board, filled very well, At a meeting of the directors Thursday the following entries were accepted:

A Man and Woman Arrested on San Francisco Warrant.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Pippher were arrested by Detective Bosqui yesterday on a warrant issued by a San Francisco court little more than a year ago.

The charge is that Pippher sold a num-

Detective Bosqui left for San Francisco on last evening's train, taking Mr. and Mrs. Pippher with him. John Briggs of this city states he has known Mr. and Mrs. Pippher for more than a year past. As a musician he has been intimately associated with them. According to a statement made by Mr. Pippher to him, which statement was corroborated by Pippher's mother without her knowing what her son had told, there was no swindle in the land transaction in San Francisco es claimed.

Phypher traded six lots for a lodging-house property, but there was, as far as he was concerned, no swindle in the transaction. He bought the lots in good faith, and before trading them obtained an abstract from a reputable company showing the title to the fots to be good.

After the lots had passed out of his poscession the man who purchased them obtained a loan of $550 on them, which fact would indicate there was at that time no question at to the title.

Some time after that a question, of which he knew nothing while he was in possession of the lots, was raised regarding the title not only to them, but to more than one hundred lots in the neighborhood. As a result of such question being raised, the man to whom the lots had been sold lost them. Pippher being without means was unable to make good the loss for which, however, there was no legal claim against him. The Past Year Has Been a Most Prosperous One.

The committee reports were highly encouraging. The "noon-rest" lunchroom having had an average daily attendance for the month of sixty-organ. The members of the recent Methodist Episcopal conference, held in this city, are much wrought up over a petty swindle perpetrated upon them before the conference convened. A couple of youths, Charles Stewart and one Hughes, sent out notification to the various ministers they wished to publish a daily confer journal containing a stenographic report of the proceedings. The enterprise was indorsed, and Stewart and Hughes, procur-ing the services of one Curran as printer. of the proceedings. The enterprise was indorsed, and Stewart and Hughes, procuring the services of one Curran as printer, entered on the work. They failed to do any satisfactory work, the reports being mainly a "rehash" from the morning papers, but nevertheless they collected money, took subscriptions through the various ministers for several of their charges, and, after getting out two numbers of the so-called "daily," disappeared with the proceeds, leaving the members of the conference who had taken subscriptions clamoring for their money.

It is reported that the two youths have started out on a tour of evangelistic work. Ministers and their flocks are warned against these adventurers, pretenders and rascals. The experience should, however, be a lesson to good people who patronise "jim-crow" publications in preference to legitimate newspapers.

The Demo-Pops May Do More "Juggling."

No Business Transacted at the Com-mittee Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon

Spencer G. Millard Received With Enthusiasm by Northern Republicans—The County Canvass to Begin.

The announcement of the Democrais that their ticket had been completed with the changes made on Thursday, was evidently premature, for it seems that the "juggling" performance has not yet reached the concluding stage. A meeting of the Democratic County Central Committee had been called for 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, but when that hour arrived a full quorum was not present. Chairman Stephens, however, called the little crowd to order and announced very briefly that he understood that there was nothing of importance to come before the meeting. In conclusion he said: "I hold in my hand the resignation of R. H. Chapman as candidate for Superior Judge."

in my hand the resignation of R. H. Chapman as candidate for Superior Judge."

The reading of the resignation was attended by no surprise on the part of those present and it was evident that this was a part of the trade with the Populists, who had indorsed Sheldon Borden. Several members of the committee suggested that an adjournent had better be taken until today, when the vacancy might be filled, and a motion to this effect prevailed without dissent.

Later in the day it was stated that Mr. Chapman had reconsidered his resignation and that he had abandoned his original intention of withdrawing.

No further changes have been made on either ticket, except that the Populist nominee for Coroner, Dr. E. E. Curran, is said to have retired in order to assist Dr. Choate, the Democratic candidate.

The Democratic County Central Committee will meet again this morning at 10 o'clock.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Spencer G. Millard of this city, Republican nominee for Lieutenant-Covernor, is being well received in the North. On Wednesday evening he addressed a large audience at San Francisco, and, judging from the following report of the meeting, published in the Chronicle, his reception was a signally enthusiastic one:

"The Alcazar Theater was crowded last night with enthusiastic and representative Republicans, who had gathered to meet S. G. Millard, nominee for Lieutenant-Governor on the Republican ticket. The pretty theater was filled early, numerous ladies and their escorts coming early to get good seats. The body of the house therefore theater was filled early, numerous ladies and their escorts coming early to get good seats. The body of the house, therefore, had the appearance of a gala night. The gallery was packed with hundreds of men, who signified their full appreciation of the eloquent remarks of Mr. Millard by frequent and prolonged applause. The reception was under the auspices of the Union League Club.

"We have with us here tonight, said the chairman, 'one whose standing as a man and a Republican in this State is such that at the fecent Republican State Convention at Sacramento he was selected as the best man to be the lieutenant to Mr. Estee on the State ticket. "Mr. Millard was received with great appleause."

"Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen and fellow-citisens of San Francisco," he said, I thank you for your cordial greeting. I shall not detain you with any extended remarks. Permit me to say at the outset that I believe it is a great honor that we can call ourselves citizens of the great State of California, a State of such magnitude and prosperity, celebrated for its magnificent mountain scenery, fts prolific valleys, its agricultural, viticultural and vinicultural interests, its stock-raising, its lumber and its mines, celebrated for its magnificent public schools, and for having one of the best public school systems in the Union; and lastly, fellow-citizens, a State which contains within its borders nearly 1,500,000 of the most loyal and the most patriotic people beneath the Stars and Stripes. I am here as a Republican, and while I bear with those who do not agree with me upon political issues, yet I am here as a Republican. Two years ago the country was prosperous, the people were happy, the working people were receiving better wages than they ever had. Our speakers two years ago referred to this happy condition, and maintained that the condition of the people would improve if the protective system were changed to one of tariff reform. The majority of people decided to make the change and take the chances. Now, after two years of Democratic rule the curtosity of American people has been entirely satisfied. (Applause).

"During the last year of the administration of Benjamin Harrison (Applause) we exported. more than we imported. Soon after the inauguration of Cleveland the balance turned. The price of wheat, wool and corn declined, and the little tin dinner pail went in a state of innocuous desuetude, as Mr. Cleveland aays. Many of those who used to carry the little tin dinner pail went in a state of innocuous desuetude, as Mr. Cleveland says. Many of those who used to carry the little tin dinner pail began to take dinners at free souphouses. Now Mr. Cleveland found it necessary to call a special session of Congress. He secured the unconditional repeal of the Sherman silver bill, which, as a law, had added $4,000,000.a month to the circulating medium of the country. Yet that promise of prosperity has not been fulfilled. Them a Democratic Congress began to frame a tariff bill. Bourke Cockranstated that the trouble with the country was that it was just recovering from a long debauch. He said that the country had been drunk for thirty years upon protection. Well, fellow-citizens, for the last year and a half the country has been sober enough. (Applause and laughter.) If our prosperity was the result of our intoxication upon the protective system, then I say, in the name of the country, in the name of the country in the name of the country get drunk again. Yet what did we do in those thirty years more is a town of the proposed to any fiscal policy in this country which will produce stagnation and clothing. A short meeting of the Democratic City Central Committee was held last evening in Justice Austin's courtroom at which it was decided to hold the city primaries by precincts on October 19, and the city convention on October 22. The now characteristic "star chamber" plan was adopted in conducting the session, and all outsiders were vigorously excluded. Since the serious "split" was occasioned on the fusion proposition a few days ago, the "programme" Democrats seem very anxious that their deliberations be kept as secret as possible, and that the public generally be led to believe that the "unterrified" are not rent with internal dissensions as they really are.

Nothing further was done by the committee last might sside from filling a few vacancies existing among the various precincts. It is understood that one wing of the committee is trying to boom Frank Sabichi for Mayor, while the other wants Mayor Rowan renominated.

THE AFRO-AMERICAN LEAGUE HOLDS A LIVELY MEETING.

The Young Men's Atro-American League met Thursday night with about sixty members present. It was the most enthusiastic meeting held since the organization was perfected, though the attendance was much less than usual. Much discussion was indulged in by the members as to the reasonable legality of a non-partisan organization indorsing any special ticket. The indorsement plan was spuported by G. W. Hawkins, P. F. Anderson, L. C. Young. The following resolutions were offered by L. C. Young, which were adopted with a few dissenting voices:

"Whereas the Young Men's Afro-American League, a non-partisan organization, desiring to be identified with those who are on their rapid march to progress; and, whereas, the Republican party being of progressive principles and American ideas; and, whereas, the aphorism of this party is and has always been, 'freedom, equal and just rights to all men;' and, whereas, we believe that if our ability and manhood are to be recognized as other American citizens are, it must come through that party of progression and American ideas; therefore, be it "Resolved, that we, as Afro-American citizens are, it must come through that party of progression and American ideas; therefore, be it "Resolved, that we, as Afro-American citizens of the State of California and of the county and city of Los Angeles, do reartily indorse the entire list of Republican nominees of the State and county; that we will use all reasonable efforts, becoming honest, loyal and patriotic citizens to help elect the ticket so nominated, and maintain American ideas and Republican principles."

The league adjourned to meet on Monday evening.

Political Points.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the Federation of Republican Clubs will meet in the rooms of the Republican County Central Committee at No. 115½ North Main street, Several sub-committees will hold meetings later in the afternoon at the same place.

Beginning next Monday, two parties of Republican candidates and speakers will start out on a stumping tour of the county.

Maj. Donnell and H. A. Pierce spoke to a large audience at Whittier last evening, while James McLachlan, T. E. Newlin, Frank Kelsey and several other Republicans spoke at Burbank.

The Soldiers' and Sailors' Republican Club will be addressed by the well-known speaker, A. B. Campbell, tonight in the rooms of the Los Angeles Republican Club at 110 West Second street. A colored glee club will be in attendance and a rousing meeting is anticipated.

THE BOND ISSUES.

THE BOND ISSUES.

One of the most important matters of the week affecting property-owners, was the adoption by the Council of an ordinance of intention for the bond election. As finally approved, the ordinance calls for $185,000 for schools, $150,000 for parks, $141,600 for the Third-street tunnel, and $30,000 for headworks for a water system on the Providencia ranch, a total of $506,000. The park appropriation is divided as on the Providencia ranch, a total of $506, 500. The park appropriation is divided as follows: Westlake, $25,000; East Side, $25,000; Elysian, $100,000. As mentioned last week it is considered by some as a mistake to handicap the Elysian Park improvement with appropriations for other parks, as it may endanger the passage of the park bonds.

As to the Third-street tunnel proposition, the property Grapts in that direction claim.

As to the Third-street tunnel proposition, the property-owners in that direction claim that it is a much-needed improvement, involving the convenience of a large and rapidly-growing section; that the First-street cut is now approaching completion, and that the tunnel is directly in the interest of the business section along First street, as unless Third street is cut through business will inevitably move rapidly down toward Seventh street, where the first natural opening to the west is found. Some of the residents along Temple street think that the Council should have added $100,000, while they were about it, for the think that the Council should have added $100,000, while they were about it, for the grading of Temple street.

In regard to the bonds for headworks of the water system there appears to be but one opinion, and that a favorable one among the mass of the voters, the exceptions being those few whose personal interests do not lie in that direction.

The urgent necessity for new school buildings is generally admitted, and the only qualification of an almost universal approval of the bond issue for that purpose is a doubt which is entertained by many citizens as to the propriety of leaving the disposition of so large an amount of money in the hands of the present school board.

THE OIL BUSINESS.

THE OIL BUSINESS.

a down new wells have been commenced during the week, and preparations are being made to sink a number of others. Besides this, several companies have been formed and are preparing to go to work. Most of them will show some development before they offer stock for sale, which is a good plan.

Two wells on State street, belonging to E. L. Doheny, who was the ploneer of the oil husiness in the city, are now said to be pumping, together, fifty barrels. Mr. Doheny had hard work to make a start in the oil business at a time when pobody had any confidence in it, being forced to scrape together and mortgage everything he bwined, but he has been well rewarded, as he now has eighteen wells, from which it is said that he sells 150 barrels of oil daily.

it is said that he sells 150 barrels of oil daily.

Allison Barlow, the real estate man, who owns twenty lots on Second street, has begun sinking a well at Second and Beaudry, which is of interest, as it is the nearest to the business section that has yet been sunk. It is only a little over half a mile in an air line from the City Hall. It is also the farthest south of any well yet sunk, although amother is to go down shortly on Figueroa near Fourth. The Los Angeles Improvement Company, which owns much property around Second-street Park, will sink a well on Second street pare the old Second-street power-house. Should the output continue to increase, there is talk of a pipe line to Santa Monica. In this connection it is stated that the Los Angeles oil field is moarer to the ocean than any other oil field in the world, besides which it has the advantage of a fall of 300 feet in fifteen miles.

advantage of a fall of 300 feet in fifteen miles.

Joe Bayer is so much encouraged at the success of his wells that he will sink the success of his wells that he will sink the more in the Second-street Fark, which is a private park owned by him. He refused $10,000 for four wells this week, and said he would hesitate about considering an offer of $25,000.

A well is being sunk near the Elysian Park horse railroad track, west of the park and north ef Angeleno Heights. It was down about 300 feet early in the week, with some oil.

was down about 300 feet early in the week, with some oil.

A resident of Los Angeles has an interesting map, the only one in existence, showing the oil-bearing strats and developments in the country north of Los Angeles. It was made several years ago by J. M. Farney, M.E., who died at Yuma last January. Mr. Farney devoted much time to an examination of the oil-bearing strata of that section and was a firm believer in the ultimate development of oil there in large quantities. The map shows several borings which reached oil sand as follows: On the Los Angeles River, north of the Plaza, at 80 feet; west of Westlake Park at 650 feet; four miles west of the city limits at about 1200 feet; in the foothills, eight miles northwest, at 300 and again at 500 feet, and another well west of that last mentioned, where oil sand was struck at 300 and 500 feet.

It is exted in regard to the total oil that it not only gives better results as feul than any other petroleum in America, but also requires a higher temperature to explode. A number of business-houses are maioling arrangements to use petroleum instead of coal, as soon as the Council sanctions its use. It will probably be some time yet before there is any need to take about exporting the oil, but when that them arrives there are good markets at hand and the seasboard can be reached by means of a pipe line at very small expense.

Sales of lots in the oil district have not seen so numerous as they would have been vere owners more reasonable in their denands. Two lots were sold during the week or $1500, for which $500 could not have

This is shout a fair example of the way

A lease of a lot was made during the hat the lot is quite surrounded by proluct wells, so that the leasees take

TENTH-STREET HOTEL.

Several inquiries have been received of the amount subscribed to cover contingencies and losses in collecting, and the subsidy placed in the shape of notes, with Maj. George H. Bonebrake as trustee, his people would go to work at once and build a hotel of not less than three hundred rooms, payment of the notes to be contingent on the completion of the building by December 31, 1895. They would they buy the site of the present owners and collect the notes when due, to reimburse themselves. Only about $1500 is expected that this will be ready within a few days. Meantime the agent has gone back to Chicago, and is said to be now conferring with his principals. It is stated that, in case this hotel is built, it will be entirely fireproof, the woodwork being taken out of the present foundation. The cost, it is said, would approximate $500,000. Property in the neighborhood of the site has been changing hands on the strength of the rumered early completion of the hotel. With or without a hotel, there is no doubt that property along Main street in that neighborhood is a good buy at present prices.

SOUTH LOS ANGELES. The owners of the Adams-street tract have raised prices of lots from 20 to 33 1-3 per cent., but this seems to have only reper cent., but this seems to have only resulfed in stimulating buyers. Seventeen lots were sold in the tract during the week and a number of fine houses are going up.
Work is being pushed on the double electric line on Central avenue, which is to be completed within sixty days, when the service will be equal to that on the University division.

DUE SOUTH.

Another tract in the southern part of the city which has been making rapid growth is that known as the Throop tract, on Main and Jefferson streets. The owners of the tract are preparing to push it to the front during the coming fall and winter, and to that end will have some announcements to make through the advertising columns of The Times, among which is an invitation for suggestions for a new name for the tract, which is located among the orange groves near the southern city limits.

STREET-RAILROAD DEVELOPMENT. STREET-RAILROAD DEVELOPMENT.

An important improvement which is shortly to be made is the electrizing of all the cars of the Consolidated street railway system, cable and electric. The electric cars of this system have always been more popular than those which use cables. Los Angeles is bound to keep in the front rank of cities as far as the street-railway service is concerned. The change will be particularly beneficial to the East Side, where better time can be made through the thinly-settled sections.

PROPOSED FOOTHILL ROAD.

Apropos of electric railways, the Investor has the following in regard to a proposed revival of the old Los Angeles and Pacific line, along the Cahuenga foothills to Santa Monica:

"We learn that a deal is progressing which is expected to result in the transfer of this company and the conversion of the road into an electric line in the boom, and was known as the foothill line to Santa Monica string from the junction of Bellevue avenue and Upper Main street. It was promoted by M. L. Wicks and suffered several, bond issues until finally insolvency came, the rolling stock of the company ceased to roll, its shining track became the victim of rust, and the creditors have viewed with despondency all attempts to get anything back out of their investment. The present opportunity has, therefore, been gladly selsed and these is a prospect that they may now get a dividend at least.

"We are informed that the creditors have viewed that the creditors have view a contract of sale by which they agree to turn over all their rights in the property for a payment equivalent to 20 cents on the dollar, to be made in bonds of a new company, to be organized by the purchasers. This option holds good until the 1st of November next, by which time the promotera expect to have secured aufficient donations in money and in land along the line of road to be able to go shead with the scheme. It will be represented to the property-owners that the cost of altering and electrising the road and supplying the necessary equaciments will be $400,000, and it is the intention to make an issue of bonds to this amount, part of which are to be used in the control of th

Business in the building industry continues very active. The September building is almost three times as great as any previous month. Among the uncontracted new work reported by the Builder and Contractor is the following: Two-story house on Twenty-first, near Union avenue, for A. W. Pain, to cost $2000; two-story house, corner Tenth and Beacon, for Chifford B. Fleming, to cost $4500; two-story brick warehouse, on Alameda street, for Mrs. Louis Naud, to cost $5000; business block on Fifth and Crocker, for Mrs. Freeman, to cost $5000; cottage on Boyle Heights for Mrs. Fisher, to cost $2000; residence on Lake View avenue, near Westlake Park, for Maj. Irvine, to cost $3800.

The Library. WEEKLY MEETING OF DIRECTORS AN ERROR CORRECTED.

A regular meeting of the Board of Li-brary Directors was held yesterday after noon with Directors Dobinson, Borden and Howard present.

The librarian reported for the month of September the total circulation of books to have been 37,508, and the number of visitors in the refenence department to have been 3154. The report also gave statistics of the work done by the force during the past month.

H. O. Collins being heard, stated that he believed the board should purchase more works treating on genealogical, biographical and historical subjects. While it can scarcely be said, he stated, that a majority of the people desire to have these works installed in the institution, yet there is a large minority of the people who want them. Referred to the Book Committee.

The following communication, addressed to the board, was read:

"Gentlemen: In what purported to be a report of the Book Committee of the Public Library there occur two important errors. First, that Boccaccio's "Decameron," a book whose moral trend is questionable, appears in the Chautauqua course of reading of fast year; second, that this Chautauqua reading association is an organization under the auspices of the Methodist church. These two statements are not sustained by the facts. In justice to this popular society and in the interest of truth we beg you to consider the matter and make the necessary correction."

Director Howard stated that in writing Director Howard stated that in writing the report, the correctness of which had been attacked, it had been insended to mean that the Chautauqua work is more favored by the Methodists than by those of other denominations. The matter was referred to the Book Committee for investigation.

DECISION BY JUDGE SHAW—SUPREME COURT OPINION.

Judge Shaw yesterday rendered his decision in the case of I. W. Heilman vs. H. J. Shoulters et al., findings and judgment being ordered for the defendants in accordance with the following opinion: In the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, State of California. Hellman vs. Shoulters.

"This cause is submitted on an agreed statement of facts. The complaint asks that the defendant, as Treasurer of Los Angeles city, be enjoined from selling certain lots upon a warrant to pay certain bonds issued for street improvements. The chief object of the action is to obtain

The chief object of the action is to obtain a decision as to the constitutionality of the act commonly known as the Street Bond Improvement Act of 1891. Upon this question able and exhaustive briefs have been filed by counsel for the respective parties. I have carefully examined them, and have come to the conclusion that the law in question is constitutional. The reasons are set forth at length and with great force and clearness in the briefs of counsel for defendant, and I do not deem it necessary to state them in not deem it necessary to state them in this opinion, particulary as the case will no doubt be appealed to the Supreme Court; and I do not think I can add to nison's subdivision of the Fair Oaks Avenue Park tract, in the Rancho San Pasqual in 1887.

SUPREME COURT OPINIONS. The Supreme Court has affirmed the judgment and order of Judge Wade (deceased) appealed from in the case of Aaron W. Royal (respondent) vs. G. L. Dennison et al. (appellants) an action in ejectment to recover possession of a house and lot at No. 215 Courthouse street, in this city, which plaintiff traded for four lots in Dennison's subdivision of the Fair Oaks Avenue Park tract, in the Rancho San Pasqual in 4887

At the time the agreement of exchange was made between them, Dennison did not have title to the property he promised to convey to Rayal, but held a contract of purchase of a large tract, of which the four lots were a part, upon which he had made one payment only, and for which he was to obtain a deed upon full payment. He never made any other payment, but a year after the agreement was made, conveyed all his interest in the premises to Lucius Dennison, his father, who subsequently procured title to the tract.

In 1890 Royal tendered to G. L. Dennison a deed of conveyance of the house and lot, in possession of which the latter had been for almost three years, and domanded $250, the agreed value of the property, less $750, which amount he had borrowed from Donnison. The defendant refused to pay it, however, and tendered to plaintiff a deed of the four lots executed by Lucius Dennison, but the grantor being a stranger to the contract, Royal refused to accept said deed.

It was shown upon the trial of the case that in another action against the Dennisons, a decree was entered adjudging the conveyance made by G. L. Bennison to his father to be fraudulent as to his creditors, and the admission of this evidence was contended to be improper; but the Supreme Court does not so hold, and finds no error in the record which would justify a reversal.

Supreme Court does not so hold, and finds no error in the record which would justify a reversal.

The judgment and order of the Superior Court of San Bernardino country, in the case of F. W. Egger (respondent) vs. C. H. Rhodes (appellant) an action to rescind a contract for the sale of land, are also affirmed, the Supreme Court, in a very brief opinion, holding that the demurrer was properly overruled, as the facts stated were fully sufficient to constitute a cause of action; that the objection of the defense to the testimony of the witness Finkle is not sustained by the record; and that the evidence was sufficient to justify each of the findings assailed.

In the case of the Porphyry Paving Company (respondent) vs. L. Aucker (appellant) an action to enforce a street assessment against defendant's land in the city of San Bern rdino, the judgment and order appealed from are affirmed. The Supreme Court holds the trial court did not err in overruling defendant's demurrer to the complaint, as it is no ther ambiguous nor contradictory. If does however, give special consideration to one point made by appellant, with reference to the posting and publication of the required notice by the Street Superintendent, but does not sustain appellant's position.

The contention that the evidence does not justify the findings is not sustained.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS.

THEY AWAIT THE COMING OF

The Annual Camp Established at Pico and Alvarado Streets— The Daily Routine of

During the past few days, residents of West Pico street, near Alvarado street, have been surprised by a white city of tents which has suddenly sprung up in their midst. Many speculations have arisen as to the cause of it, and closer investigation discovered that it was the annual camp of the Seventh Day Adventists, who ones a year make ready their ascendon robes, and, gathering unto the high places, wait for the coming of the Lord with prayer and song.

There are some fifty or more tents affice Heights inhabited by perhaps 200 men, women and children, to say nothing of the dogs, of which there are a great number, and very well behaved animals at that. The tents are arranged in avenues or streets, and each one is numbered, while in a lot adjoining the horses and wagons are kept. Signs distributed around this ministure town, ward the instuder, that no smoking or loud talking is allowed, and peddlers will not be received.

Housekeeping is carried on in an easy and primitive fashion, every family gotting their needs from the fruit and vegetable wagons which pars. They have chosen a most beautiful situation for the camp, as a grand view of the mountains and surreunding country is obtained from camp, as a grand view of the mountains and surrounding country is obtained from pico Heights, and the ocean breeze coels the air all day.

Every-day is lived after a certain plan. At 5:30 o'clock in the morning a bell is rung to call them, also their immediate neighbors, from their slumbers. At 6 a young people's meeting is held in one of the big tents, which is fitted up with wooden benches and answers for a meeting-house. At 7 the breatfast, bell sounds and all are expected to have their morning meal prepared to have their morning a preaching services. At 1 the bell rings again for dinner; at 2:30 and at 7:30 there are also services. Informal prayer meetings are also held between, times. The elders in charge of the camp are R. S. Owen, McClure, W. ORPHANS' FAIR.

The Large Hall Again Filled Last Evening.

The friends of the Orphans' fair The friends of the Orphans' fair seem to realize that the week is drawing to its close, for the large hall was filled last evening. The coffee, which is served by pretty girls at the Rustic Inn, was in great demand, and St. Vincent's table is crowded with pretty things, which are fast finding purchasers. The Gipsy tent holds its own wonderfully well, while Monte Carlo with its bright drapertes, and brighter faces behind the table makes a good showing. The Orphans' Appeal booth is perhaps decorated more uniquely than any in the hall with its vari-colored paper trimmings and butterfiles. This is where the Orphans' Appeal is gotten up, and a bright set of young men are found on the repertorial staff.

constable Richardson said, when asked by a reporter yesterday, that nearly all o his deputies are men who, by their actions, never would lead one to suspect they are officers. Most of them are conductors on street cars or are engaged in similar occupations, which place them in positions where arrests occasionally need to be made when no police officer is near by. There have, he said, been one or two cases where deputies appointed by him have misbehaved themselves, but where such actiop has come to his knowledge he has promptly revoked the appointment. Constable Rogers, of whom it is more particularly complained that proper discrimination is not shown in making appointments, was not in when a reporter called to see him yesterday, and so what he had to say in regard to the matter could not be learned.

The matter was investigated by the police, and it appeared that, although there might have been a robbery, it was done after death had taken place. The body was removed to Orr & Patterson's, where Coroner Cates held an inquest. The verdict was that Orahood came to his death by apoplexy. Orahood lived at No. 114 South Broadway and kept a store near Fifth and San Pedro streets. He is said to have had a wife somewhere in the East.

White, of W. N. White & Co., the largest fruit brokers in England, who bandled the shipment, is quoted as saying?

"That year the weather was fine, warm, with plenty of sunshine, weather that induces people to eat fruit. The English crops were not heavy, and so I realized very good prices, from 12s to 17s a box. Reports say that on this shipment there was a loss of $40,000. This I cannot believe, and my reason for being incredulous are mainly arithmetical. The charges from New York to London came to £32 a carload, which will figure out about 1s 4d on whole boxes, or $6 on half-boxes. The prices we obtained were far ahead of those prevalent, in New York, where plenty of California pears were sold at $2 and $2.50 as companed to $3 and $4.25 here. New York charges 15 per cent. and handling charges of 4d. for whole boxes, and 2d for half boxes, so how can a loss have been made with an excess in London of about 30 cents per box over New York charges, when there was fully $1 more per box paid by London buyers. Now there is not the least danger in sending any quantity of California fruit to London with an excess of charge over the cost of landing it in New York of 30 cents, providing the fruit arrives in proper condition."

In regard to the first shipment this year, Mr. White says that everything was against them in haddling the fruit. They Certainly this should be sufficient to explain why the shipments were not more successful. Mr. White says:

"It does not need any further discussion of the grower's question, 'Will it pay to ship California fruit to London?' I answer emphatically, 'Yes.' But plenty of advice should be given in order to prepare buyers here, and California packers should be in close cable communication with us. Then some little changes should be made in the methods of packing. The boxes should be protected from being squeezed in transit and consepacking. The boxes should be protected from being squeezed in transit and consequently bruising the fruit.

grades and the sizes should be uniform. California plums are magnificent, but, however good, they will not realize high prices in a glutted market. The state of the market is easily advised. It California growers, with their annually increasing orchards, would carefully consider and plan out all business arrangements of California fruit shipments, they need anticipate nothing but success and high prices."

It will certainly be a matter of regret

It will certainly be a matter of regret if arrangements are not made to forward regular shipments of California fruit to London, where there appears to be an almost unlimited market. The correspondent above quoted says that Californians would not believe without ocular demon-stration what miserable apologies for fruit are offered for sale in London. It is such The sales are made by auction, and the fruit is disposed of very rapidly, within an hour after a sale all the 5000 or 6000 packages having been delivered.

A Good Market for Raisins. The combine of raisin-men in the Sin loaquin Valley has already had some effect n the market. The first crop of raisins is far better in quality than last year's, though it is not so large by almost thirty million pounds, but the deficiency will be than made up in the prices which have been fixed by the Growers' and Pack-ers' Company, which controls about 80 per cent, of the crop, and it is believed that the present diving prices will be maintained, though the combine will have (American Agriculturist:) Farmers often keep too many hens in one place. Fifty is all that should be kept in one flock, as the food will cost less, and more eggs will be laid in winter than if one hundred are kept. The right way to do, when more than fifty fowls are to be kept, is to have one house near the barn, another somewhere in the orchard, and another in some out-of-the-way place. If the houses are two or three hundred yards apart, fences will not be required. The houses need not be expensive, and most farmers have old lumber lying around, or an old shed that ought to be torn down, and all this can be worked into the poultry houses. The houses should be at least 25x15 feet for fifty fowls. Have the roof firm and tight, and then line the house inside with good, stout building paper. Little cracks in the sides of a house or dampness is the cause of sick fowls during the winter season. The front and south side of the house should be seven or eight feet high, and have two ordinary-sized windows therein, while the back or north side should be four or five feet high. The reason why the house should be large, light and dry is because during the cold or stormy days of winter the fowls should be confined therein, and if plenty of litter is kept on the floor, and small grains are buried under this, the fowls will be kept busy all day. This means plenty of eggs, and plenty of eggs in winter means plenty of money just when money is most needed. Do not be afraid of shutting the house up as tight, as possible at night, but during the day, when the hens are confined, open the windows and give plenty of air, using wire netting to keep the fowls from flying out. It must be remembered that hens are dressed just as heavily in daytime as at night, and if kept too warm during the day they will feel the cold of night more, and sickness will be the result. The droppings should be kept by themselves and not be allowed to be scratched all over the floor, and the roosts should be all on a level and not more than eighteen inches or two feet up from the floor. The roosts should be three or four inches wide, a 2x5 joist making an excellent roost.

A remarkable instance of persistence in holding a flow of milk was furnished by Merry Maiden, a Jersey owned by C. I. Hood of Lowell, Mass. Previous to her calving at the World's Fair, on April 15, 1893, it was found impossible to dry her off, although every effort was made to do so. She has just calved again, having meantime been through a dairy test, had a severe sickness, been moved from West to East, and in spite of persistent efforts to dry her, was giving from ten to thirteen pounds of milk per day up to the time of dropping her calf.

Co. D. Ray in American Farmer.) A cow that is dry should be fed with such food as will furnish an abundance of nutrition without largely increasing the proportion of fat. It is the poorest kind of economy to let a dry cow run down in flesh, and it is almost as bad to make her fat. She should be kept in a good, thrifty condition, and in as perfect health as possible, for not only the health of her off-spring and its future value for beef or milk depends on these things, but the value of the cow as a milker is affected for good or bad by her condition during the period of gestation. If a cow is skin poor at the time the calf is dropped she will not give as much milk as she would if in good condition, nor can she be fed so as to cause her to increase her flow to what it would have been if she had been properly cared for. It is quite a common thing to have cows come in in the fall for winter milkers, and these are dry during that part of the year when pasturage is at its poorest and insects are most numerous, and from these two causes dairy cattle are likely to become reduced in flesh. If dry cows are not attended to at this time and given a supplementary ration, they often become thin and out of at this time and given a supplementary ration, they often become thin and out of condition, and when once this happens it is hard to bring them back. It follows that the best course is to provent this from occurring, for upon attention to this matter depends the profit from keeping the cow.

The great trouble with many farmers is that they do not raise what they need for their families at home. "Have not time to bother with such things." many of them say. As a consequence it too often hap-pens that the money which they take in for their regular crops they pay out again for supplies, and more, too. It would be a good idea to have a model farm here and there to show what can be done in the way of making a place self-supporting.

Contestants Close in the Pratt Will Contest.

Proponents Ask the Withdrawal of Certain Issues from the Case.

A Physician Testifies that Mrs. Pratt's Mind Was Clear, but that She Was Lacking in Energy.

The trial of the contest over the will of Mrs. Annie A. Pratt, deceased, was resumed before Judge Clark and a Jury in the Probate Court yesterday morning, with the contestant, Mrs. Lucy C. Good-amination.

A letter from Gen. Mansfield, written in August, 1889, to Mrs. Goodspeed was identified by her and offered in evidence, but was not allowed in, the court sustaining the objection to it of contestant's counsel.

Mrs. Goodspeed testified to the effect that she had a conversation with Gen.

Mansfield in 1892 relative to her methyla. will, during which he told her that it wa in his safe. He did not, however, say any thing about its contents.

She further stated that during the six months of her residence here prior to her mother's death she was never allowed to see Mrs. Pratt or talk to her, except in the presence of a third party.

Mrs. Leonora Wakefield, upon being recalled, was permitted, over the objection.

called, was permitted, over the objection of proponent's counsel, to reiterate her testimony as to Mrs. Pratt's mental con-testimony as to Mrs. Pratt's mental condition.

Upon reconvening for the afternoon session, counsel for the contestants created some surprise by the announcement that they had no further testimony.

Bradner W. Lee, Esq., counsel for the proponents at once moved the court to withdraw certain of the issues from the consideration of the jury upon the ground that the contestants had not introduced a particle of trustworthy evidence that there was fraud practiced upon the deceased to influence her to make a will in the favor of any person or persons. There was evidence of non-experts on this matter, but not a scintilla of evidence that is trustworthy regarding this fraud or unsoundness of mind that is claimed. He challenged the attorneys on the other side to show a particle of testimony that tended to show that Mrs. Pratt was unsound in mind or insane in any particular. He further contended that they had not introduced a word of evidence to substantiate their claim that the will had been interpolated or compounded.

The motion was argued at some length by Messrs, Hanlow, Wittie and Leader.

duced a word of evidence to substantiate their claim that the will had been interpolated or compounded.

The moticu was argued at some length by Messrs. Handon, White and Lee, and, upon being submitted to the court, Judge Clark expressed himself as of the opinion that since the contestants had aleged fraud and undue influence, the burden of proof lay with them, and that, it they failed to prove it, the issue should be withdrawn, but held the motion to be premature, and denied it, with the understanding that it could be brought up again at the proper time.

The jury, which had been excluded during the argument, was then brought in again, and the proponents proceeded to put in their testimony, their first witness being Dr. James Surman of Portland, Or. The witness, who was a middle aged man of undomiable English extraction, created considerable amusement by his unfortunate comission of the aspirate when giving his testimony. He stated that he had known Mrs. Fratt for over nine-tean years, intimately, and had frequently corresponded with her from 1875 up to 1890. He produced a couple of old letters from her, and, upon inspection of the will offered for probate, pronounced it unquedionably in her handwriting.

Alexander Campbell, Esq., took advantage of the cyportunity to are read its contents to the jury.

He was then questioned as to his opinion of Mrs. Pratt's mental condition when he dast saw her at Gen. Mansfeld's house, in 1893, and unhesitatingly pronounced her

He was then questioned as to his opinion of Mrs. Pratt's mental condition when he dast saw her at Gen. Mansfield's house, in 1893, and unhesitatingly pronounced her of sound mind. He explained that she lacked energy, but her faculties were guite clear, and her memory good. At the conclusion of the direct examination of the witness, court adjourned for the day, the case going over until Monday next.

PASADENA BREVITIES.

The South Pasadenian says: "There is a quiet movement on foot to build cement sidewalks on Columbia street, from the Raymond Hotel west to Orange Grove avenue, the intention being to improve both sides of the street alike, plant trees where any are lacking, properly grade the street and in fact make the thoroughfare one of which property-owners may feel proud. The idea is certainly a good one, as no other street is so much used by guests at the Raymond in the winter time, and if the contemplated improvements are made property on the street will be in good demand at fancy figures."

of Street Improvement.

POMONA, Oct. 5.—(Special Correspondence.) The ladies of the W.R.C. of Vicksburg Post, through their president, Mrs. J. P. Brady, extended in a few well-timed and complimentary remarks their thanks to the community for its liberal patronage toward their dianer and plunder fair yesterday for the benefit of the needy old soldiers in this section; also the same lady introduced to the sudience assembled in Armory Hall, the lecturer of the evening, Mr. Campbell of Kansas, who made a very, strong and interesting pies for "The Worst Boy"—in fact, his assertions, sustained by reasonable argument, made society, including teacher and parent, responsible in a great measure for the existence of these "very worst boys in the town," proving conclusively that in the great majority of instances these boys are "more sinned against than sinning."

Besides hes petition for the cement sidewalk upon the north side of Second street, there has been one presented to the City Council for one from Gary along the south side of Second astreet to the west side of Louisz, thence south thereon to Seventh, thence east on its north side to Glibbs street, thence north to the first alley. This, with a continuance on the south side of Second east to Palomares, would prove very convenient for that section of the city.

It has been learned that the entire cost of the construction of the cement sidewalks around the front and side streets alongside the First Baptist Church, and also the iron fence on the outside lineal border of the same, is a gift of C. P. Patterson, residing on the corner of Fifth and White avenues.

ing the other day. The day's experience is thus graphically related by the Moreno Indicator:

"Dr. and Mrs. Derby of Riverside were guests of J. T. Leonard and wife on Sunday. Dr. Derby is an expert hunter, and when Mr. Leonard mentioned the fact that there were deer in the hills back of his ranch his friend was all alive for a hunt. After tramping the hills for several hours they started a deer. The doctor shot and the deer dropped. Elated over the prospect of having killed a deer, the hunter pulled his knife, threw his leg over the animal and grasped one of its horns. No sooner had the knife pricked the animal's skin than it jumped to its feet and started bounding down the grade, the astonished hunter on its back riding like mad. Mr. Leonard at lest found his friend in a sumach bush, head downward, his clothes tattered and torn. It seems that the shot had only creased the buck and the prick of the knife had revived it."

Apricot Train.

SANTA ANA. Oct. 5.—(Special Correspondence.) Notwithstanding the fact that everybody in Santa Ans, almost, seems to be getting ready for the county fair next week, the political pot continues to boll, and interest grows as the time shortens before the 6th of November.

For the past several days the Democratic and Populist leaders have been in close consultation, and it is understood that a desperate effort is being made toward fusion with those two parties. But it is a hard matter to "deliver the goods" in these days of the Australian system of voting, and it is a question if the rank and file of either the Populist or Democratic parties will follow the orders of the local manipulators, when the time comes to use the little stamp.

W. H. Spurgeon has resigned from the contest for the Assembly, but, strange to say, his resignation has not yet been accepted. Dr. Head, the Populist nominee for District Attorney, it is claimed, will resign, and thus it appears that there will be two blanks, one on the Democratic ticket for Assembly, and one on the Populist ticket for Assembly, and one on the Populist ticket for District Attorney, a sort of "if you will tickle me I will tickle you" case.

There remains yet about ten days, during which candidates may withdraw their names from their party ticket, and it is expected that before the limit of time has expired for this that there will be a mumber more of blanks made on each of these two tickets. It is anything to beat the Republicans, and both Democrats had in Owange county had a minority on the books, but a majority at the polis, and from present indications that majority is expected to come from the Populist party. There may be no "fusion" on the local ticket, but from present indications ther mylority is expected to come from the Populist party. There may be no "fusion" on the social ticket, but from present indications there will probably be a good many blanks.

There may be no "haston" on the local ticket, but from present indications there will probably be a good many blanks.

OFF FOR CHICAGO.

The special trainfood of dried apricots, twelve cars in all, from the Tustin Fruit Association, meetion of which was made in this morning? Times, was sent away at noon today, after first having been photographed by a focal photographer.

During the forenoon the cars were decorated with banners, palms, flags and pampas plumes, and everything made ready so that when engine No. 11 of the Santa Fe road arrived from Los Angeles it was quickly coupled to the train and made ready to start. Engineer George L. Burger was at the throttle and Conductor Protonomme in charge. The engine's cab was prettily decorated with small flags. The train was backed down in front of the depot, before the photographer took a shot at it, and, by this arrangement, the buggles and carriages on the depot grounds furnished an interesting background for the pioture.

The train will be run as a special all the way through to Chicago, and, decorated as it is, with flags, palms and banners, will be an advertisement of the deciduous fruit interests of Orange county, and of the Tustin Fruit Association from Santa Ana to the great "White City" by the lakes—a distance of about two thousand miles.

The sending out of this trainload of apricots marks an important era in the history of the deciduous fruit interests in the county, and it is an event that will turn the attention of thousands of people toward this portion of Southern California. The shipment was managed by W. A. Choate, agent for the Colton branch of the Cutting Fruit Packing Company, which company is handling the fruit for the Tustin association.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say that, with the chief crops of the West and South sinking in value, it is not strang: that purchases as manufactured products are smaller than was expected. Wheat has touched the lowest point ever known for options, and the accumulation of stocks is discouraging to purchasers for an advance. Holders are compelled to sell at prices below the ordinary cost of raising crops, and in some of the Western States there is also a immentable failure of the corn crop. Under the circumstances it would be a strange inlag if the demand for manufactured products about be quite as large as in other years. Bradstreet's Beview.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Gradstreet's temorrow will say that, while no radical change has appeared this week, there are features of the situation pointing to a continued progress in the direction of improvement. This is true of the country at large. Providence, R. 1., announces that all industrial lines, notably manufacturing jeweiers, have received liberal orders, with the exception of the manufacturers of machinery. Baltimore, too, reports larger sales in a few directions in the West. Corresponding reports come from Omaha, where a better feeling is reported throughout the tributary region, and there is more buying of dry goods, clothing, shoes and grooseries. Dutunt also finds business improved, and jobbers in several lines have been encouraged. St. Louis and Kansas City report circulation in wholesale as well as metall lines due in part do an indux of visitors to the carnivals. From the South the most favorable reports come from Jackson-ville, where wholesale trade is good and the retail trade improving. Merchandise is moving satisfactorily from Savannah and Charleston and Chattanooga. The previously-reported large volume of business of Chicago jobbers in maintained. At a number of points East and West the depand has increased, and auge changes in the direction of mercantile collections, and, as a rule, are in the direction of improvement. The price movement has improved a little. Wheat, corn and oats have advanced from previous lowest levels. Some varieties of lumber, naval stores, they late and a few other staples have enamined steady in price, and the refined sugar is itower for reasons which may or may not be similar to those governing prices in other lines. Concessions highes have also been made for pig-iron, steel billets, lumber, lard, own the United States and Canada, for aix business of the staples and canada, for aix business of the like work, agraed 2,313,000 bushels in the disc compared with 7, OHICAGO. Oct. 5.—The small local receipts of grain and drimet markets abroad gave the wheat market a strong start. It had scarcely got under way, however, when Patridge & Leaming and other commission houses whose principal clients are short sellers opened their flood-gates and swamped the early buyers. December, which started at from 54/46/54/4 bid, and with a sale at 54%, was knocked down to 53% in the course of fifteen minutes. The short sellers had but a few short minutes of triumph at that time. The people who handle cash grain reported buyers of their xoods at an early hour of the session. The reports from the Northwest were confirmatory of what was telegraphed yesterday regarding the falling-off in farmers' deliveries at interior stations, but the decreased movement was generally ascribed to the rainy washer and the consequent bad state of the roads. The report that the Czar of Russia was dead was a matter which tangied legitimate influences for a short time, until the rumor was killed and the Czar restored to his family and subjects. The prices recovered from the decline and soon sold up to 54% for December, May keping step in the advances and declines at a distance of from $601.160 more or less than that month. The strength of corn at this time helped wheat. The failure of a New York stockhouse was the signal for general selling again by the local scalpers, under which the price dropped again to 53% for December. A few buying orders at the decline quickly changed the dealing of the crowd office more. The price on the last-named advance reached 54%. Primary market receipts were light at 785,000 bushels, which included two days' arrivals at St. Louis. To offset this, the Atlantic port clearances were only equal in wheat and flour to 20,000 bushels, including 10,000 bushels at New Orleans. Closing cables were firm and higher from Liverpool and Berlin, but rather easier from Parla. The last turn of the whirligig market was downward. The bears took more comfort out of the Wall-street failure than the buils could find in all the favorable features of the day's business. The mraket declined to 53% under the bears' hammering, and closed at 55,053%. Corn was strong during the greater part of the semion. The selling pressure by heavy speculators has given place to buying by a similar class. The strength of the cash situation, which has ruled lower than the May future recently, got to a good premium today, and spot corn brought '40 over sellers of that month. It sale of 100,000 bushels of No. 2 corn for shipment, which was reported early in the session, emphasized the scarcity of spot stuff, but offerings of new No. 3 for November and Obecember deliveries received weak, affected by the decline in wheat. BOXER'S NIGHT.

A LARGE CROWD AT THE ATH

Several Spirited Contests Between Clever Amateurs—The Ten-round Go for Points a Failure.

The Los Angeles Athletic Club's "boxers' night," held in the club gymnasium last evening, was a success, despite the fact that the event of the evening was rather abbreviated. A large and enthusiastic audience was present, taxing the seating capacity to its utmost, and that they thoroughly enjoyed every number on the programme was manifested by the frequent bursts of applause.

To the untiring efforts of the club directors, President Kennedy and John quent bursts of applause.

To the untiring efforts of the club directors, President Kennedy and John Brink in particular, is due the success of this, the first of a series of monthly entertainments of a like nature.

The evening's entertainment opened with a wrestling bout between "Joe Acton, Jr." and Mr. Maeder, a pair of the club's amateur wrestlers. The bout was Graeco-Roman style, best two out of three falls. Acton took the first fall in 6:05, Maeder taking the next in 8:06. The "rubber" was long and stubbornly contested, Maeder finally taking the fall in 16:28.

Young O'Brien and Sullivan Obide next entered the ring for a four-round go, and gratified everybody's appetite for genuine slugging. Neither man showed any science, it being give and take from start to finish. The call of time in several instances saved the Arab from a knockout, but he showed himself game and not afraid of punishment.

The champion rope-skipper of the world. Albert Watts of Australia, pext out, but he showed himself game and not afraid of punishment.

The champion rope-skipper of the world, Albert Watts of Australia, next made his appearance, and gave an exhibition of fast rope skipping. The ease and grace with which he performed called forth frequent bursts of applause, and would have turned a schoolboy green with envy. Mr. Watts holds the record for from three minutes up to one hour—his hour record being 5000 jumps. His three-minute record previous to last night was 500 jumps, which he did in 2:45% by official timers.

Prof. Gallagher, boxing instructor of the club, and Walted McStay, one of his pupils, gave a neat and scientific four-round set-to, and the maner in which his charge handled the mits reflected a good deal of credit on the instructor.

One of the best numbers on the programme was the juggling and "Sandow" act by Sparrow, from the Imperial, who kept the audlence in an uproar—at his funny antics. His imitation of Sandow in posing attitude was perfect, despite the fact that he had a false muscular development.

There was an unavoidable wait of about twenty minutes before the apearance of the two principals in the event of the evening. Thayer and Conant were the official timers and John Brink acted as reference.

welch and his seconds were the first to referee.

Welch and his seconds were the first to enter the ring, followed immediately after by Howard and his retinue. The contest was limited to ten rounds, and five-cunes gloves were used. After instructions from the referee as to clinching and barring the pivot blows, the men were ordered to shake hands.

At the call of time both men faced each other, and wasted no time in sparring for an opening. Welch led with his left but failed to land, and Howard then sailed in and delivered two or three stiff right-hand punches on Welch's jaw, the latter evening up matters an instant later by delivering a right on Howard's jaw that dazed him. Welch at once proceeded to finish his man, and did so in short order, Howard falling in a corner and lying there until counted out. Referee Brink at once declared it "mo contest," which met with the approval of the spectators, and ordered the men to fight it over again. The actual fighting time was one minute and forty-four seconds. After ten minutes' rest the men faced each other for the second time, Welch again showing his superiority by knocking his opponent out in the short space of fifty-five seconds. The shortness of the contest left some doubt in the minds of a number of the audience as to its renuineness, but that Howard was squarely put out the second time was the opinion of the majority.

Howard was comparatively unknown to the club management, but he showed a good record and was expected to give his opponent a hard tussle, in which he failed utterly. The club management feel rather sore over the unsatisfactory showing made by Howard, but propose to more than matters at their next entertain-
